On weekends and holidays staff members come in for a brief period of time to care for patients and boarders in the hospital. Should your pet require intensive care monitoring during our closed hours, we recommend a 24-hour local emergency care facility. In regards to boarded animals at Stonewall Veterinary Clinic, should a medical condition develop requiring intensive care monitoring and/or emergency care, arrangements will be made at a local emergency facility and the client will be responsible for all expenses incurred.

I understand the level of care and supervision provided for my pet should he/she stay overnight at Stonewall Veterinary Clinic.
